

House under solar panels

Overview

Whether the property is freehold or leasehold is a very important point to note, because the owner of a leasehold property does not have the authority to install solar panels on the roof without the freeholder's permission. If you're considering buying a leasehold property with solar panels, the freeholder will need to be. Solar panels can be bought outright, but they are expensive. So many homeowners choose instead to lease out their roof space to solar panel companies. The company will then install the solar panels on the roof, but the panels. The Council of Mortgage Lenders (CML) and the Building Society Association (BSA) have teamed up to put together some solar panel. Most solar panels will come with a warranty, so it's worth establishing whether there is one, if it is still current, and how much of the.
